

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, June 10. 1707.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated June 10.

Paris, June 3.

AN Exprefs from the Duke of Orleans has brought an Account, that his Royal Highness had put 2000 Men into Saragossa; that the 6000 Rebels which retir'd out of that City and over the Ebro the Night between the 24th and 25th of last Month, threw themselves afterwards into Lerida and Monson, and that the Duke of Orleans design'd to march without Loss of Time to attack those two Places. Advice is likewise brought by an Exprefs from the Duke de Noailles, that he pass'd the Pyrenees the 16th of last Month without any Opposition; that the 20th he advanc'd with his Army near to Figueres; that he found that Place abandon'd by the Enemy, as also all the other Posts and Passages as far as Gironne; that on his Approach the greatest Part of the Lampourdan as far as the River Ter, submitted to King Philip; and that assoon as he had receiv'd his Convoys and some Reinforcements he would decamp from Figueres to attack Gironne, of which he hop'd to be Master the easier, because 800 Men of the Garrison were march'd out of it to reinforce the Garrison of Barcelona. 'Tis design'd our Troops shall enter Catalonia in three Bodies, viz. the Duke of Orleans from the Kingdom of Arragon, the Duke of Berwick from the Kingdom of Valencia, and the Duke de Noailles from Roussillon.

* The Paris Mercure for May has a Letter from the Duke de Noailles's Camp near Figueres dated the 20th of May, which ends thus.

'We have an Account that the Enemy are drawing together their Horse to oppose us; and that they have supplied the Room of the 800 English and Dutch which they drew out of the Garrison of Gironne, with 500 Neapolitans.
